

The mission of The Road to Independence Foundation is to help young adults as they transition from foster care into the real world. The foundation has been established to provide funds to these individuals to assist in covering the cost of necessities that may be road blocks to their success. Without any family support or funds, a car repair bill, school supplies, or a needing a new uniform for work could be the end of the road for young adults transition out of foster care. The Road to Independence Foundation has been founded to fill a void for these individuals.

The Road to Independence Foundation is here to help.
